Atlanta is the economic and cultural center of the south of the United States. A city full of traditional charm spiced up with a modern flair. Atlanta is filled with attractions and activities, including the Georgia Aquarium (the world's largest), the Atlanta Olympic Park and the beautiful Atlanta Botanical Garden. Atlanta is also rich in history with the Martin Luther King Jr. National Historic Site and the Pulitzer Prize-winning author of "Gone with the Wind" - Margaret Mitchell - commemorated with a museum of where she used to live.

THE CITY

Ken Lund/Flickr (image cropped)

Modern Atlanta is a great cosmopolitan city and well worth a visit. From the outside, Atlanta looks like a typical American big city with skyscrapers and plenty of hotels and restaurants. However, there is much more to explore.

It is a place full of American history that predates the American Civil War. It is also the birthplace of several famous people, such as civil rights' fighter Martin Luther King Jr. and Margaret Mitchell, author of "Gone With the Wind". It is home to the world's most famous soda brand, Coca-Cola, and its headquarters and museum are still based in Atlanta.

Sports enthusiasts will find a complete selection of options including the Turner Field, home of the Atlanta Braves, the Georgia Dome hosting the NFL Atlanta Falcons, the Philips Arena showcasing NBA Atlanta Hawks and the WNBA Atlanta Dream.

DO & SEE

f11photo/Shutterstock.com

As the economic and cultural center of the south of the United States, Atlanta surely offers an interesting mix of attractions and activities. From the CNN and Coca-Cola headquarters to places rooted in history as the church where Martin Luther King Jr used to preach. The range of cultural offerings and sports events are endless, in Atlanta you'll find something for every age and taste.

SHOPPING

View Apart/Shutterstock.com

As Atlanta is quite cosmopolitan, it is easy to find what you are looking for, be it trendy or tacky, funky or fashionable or anything you can think of in-between. The city and its suburbs are teeming with malls, neighborhood shops, galleries and antiques.

Malls are by far the most convenient place to shop since most of them have parking, entertainment options and restaurants. For bargains, you have to drive a little out of the way to the North Georgia Premium Outlets in Dawnsville or Discover Mills in Lawrenceville.

Ponce City Market

No trip to Atlanta is complete without a visit to the Ponce City Market, an old warehouse turned into a modern and spacious food market and shopping center. Nice place to hang out with your family and friends and browse through the shops, because the real reason you should come here is to try their eclectic selection of food, there is something to suit any taste.

Best Time To Visit

The best time to visit Atlanta is during the spring (March - May), when the weather is mild, hotel prices are somewhat lower and the city hosts a few outdoor concerts and events, including the Atlanta Jazz Festival and the Atlanta Dogwood Festival.

Summers in Atlanta are known for being fairly hot and humid, hotel prices are high, and the city becomes crowded with tourists, but that's when most of festivals take place, such as the Atlanta Food & Wine Festival and the Coca-Cola Summer Film Festival. Be aware that the month of September is hurricane season in Atlanta.

Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport

Serving over 100 million passengers every year, the Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport (ATL) is currently the busiest airport in the world and it is located nine miles (14.5 km) south of the city.

MARTA (Metropolitan Atlanta Rapid Transit Authority) operates light rail services from the airport to the city center and throughout the metropolitan area. A single ticket to Downtown Atlanta costs $2.50, the Peachtree center station is in the heart of the Downtown hotel district.

Taxis are located in the Yellow Bus aisle. A taxi ride to Five Points can take from 15 to 60 minutes depending upon traffic - fares vary according to the number of passengers and the amount of luggage.

Car rental services are available a few minutes away from the airport via the SkyTrain. Hotel shuttle services are available on the Purple aisle in the Ground Transportation area at the west end of the Domestic Terminal. Share-ride shuttles leave every 15 minutes from stalls 3 through 10.
