Rijeka is in an exceptional location, at the point where the Adriatic Sea washes over the European coast furthest inland, and that is why the rich history of this city is tied to the sea. Rijeka is the third largest town in the Republic of Croatia, and is the main town of Primorsko-Goranska County. Because of its openness towards the outside world, the city is known for its hospitality. The influences of numerous cultures and nations can be seen in the town, and Rijeka has to this day remained a town of tolerance and coexistence.

THE CITY

xbrchx/Shutterstock.com

The town of Rijeka can trace its roots back to prehistoric times, through various centuries of conflicts, ruling dynasties and countries, and periods of architecture change. Today, many buildings from these periods can be found, especially around the Korzo and the Riva street in the heart of the town.

It was known as Tarsattica city in Roman times, St. Vito's Reka in the 17th century, and, as Rijeka when it became a free port in 1719. During this time the city's prosperity as a centre for industry and shipping grew. In the 19th century it became the eighth largest port in Europe. In 1970 Rijeka opened its first airport on the island of Krk, and its tourism, business sector and university flourished.

Shrine of Our Lady of Trsat

The Shrine of Our Lady of Trsat is the largest centre of pilgrimage in western Croatia. Its foundation is reported to be, according to tradition, related to the miraculous transport of the Nazareth Barn, and its stay on Trsat (1291 - 1294). Shortly after the relocation of the Mother of God's house to Loreto, Prince Nikola I of Krk built the first small church on the place where the barn stood on Trsat.

SHOPPING

xbrchx/Shutterstock.com

Rijeka has an eclectic mix of specialist little shops where everything from jewellery and haute couture fashions to antiques, items for the home and crafts such as locally made ceramics and paintings can be found.

It has lively markets selling household goods, clothing and hardware items, along with fresh local cheeses, hams, fruit and vegetables that are a magnet for local residents who like to catch up with friends as well as shop.

Rijeka also has few shopping centres, especially around the pedestrianised Korzo and two large shopping malls on both sides of the city. All of them attract trendy local buyers as well as visitors to the city.

Over 50 different shops can be found in the Western Commercial Centre, over three floors. With its appearance, the Centre reflects the outlines of the Kvarner Bay and is divided into two main golden structures. A sea view is ensured through the panoramic elevators. Open every day, it offers its customers brands which have never been present in the region before as well as a number of different offers for all generations. Besides the shops, ZTC offers places for gastronomic refreshment and for those looking to spend time with a cup of coffee and other beverages.

City shopping

Shops in the city centre are open from 8 am until 8 pm, on Saturdays and Sundays they are mostly open until 1 pm. In the city centre there are several pharmacies which usually stay open 24/7. After 8 pm, cigarettes and newspapers can be bought in the only kiosk that works 24/7 located at the Bus station, on Žabica. You can purchase all you need in one of the larger commercial centres in Rijeka.

Souvenir shops

The word souvenir comes from the French word souvenir and means memory. Take home a touchable memory of Rijeka. Rijeka's souvenirs can be found in the Tourist Information Centre, in the chosen galleries and shops that have received the "Originally from Rijeka" and "Unique quality" labels - Mala galerija Bruketa (Užarska 25), Atelijer Rogić (Užarska 15b), gift-shops in the department stores Korzo and Ri, in Tisak and iNovine kiosks and at Jeweller Grabušić (Matije Gupca 15a). In beautiful Trsat is the small shop called La Mamma delicije (Petra Zrinskog 2) that, in just a few square metres, includes all the best from around Croatia, and in the Old Town there is "Šta da?!" shop (Užarska 14) with the assortment of bags, T-shirts, pillows and jewellery with this slogan that has grown from a local catchphrase into a recognizable brand.

Passport/Visa

Croatia can be visited visa-free for 90 days up to 180 days from most of the EU countries, UK, New Zealand, US, Australia and Canada. International (non Schengen-zone) citizens need to hold a valid passport for at least 3 more months after the end of their intended trip in order to enter Croatia. Travellers from Schengen Zone don't need a passport but must hold a valid ID card. Note that Croatia is not yet part of the Schengen zone, but allows visitors holding Schengen visas to enter the country without additional visa requirements.

If you are unsure whether you need to apply or not for a visa prior to your entry, we recommend checking the Croatian Ministry of Foreign Affairs website for more information:

Best Time to Visit

When in Rijeka, the crystal-clear waters of Adriatic Sea, fascinating history, delicious seafood and wine will surround you. The best time to visit Rijeka is from May to early June and from September to October, when the crowds of tourists haven't yet invaded every corner of the city. In these months, you can still enjoy sunbathing or any outdoor activity without spending too much. The peak season is from July to August, meaning that room rates are often higher. Winter, although too cold, is known for being also one of the busiest seasons in Rijeka. Many events take place during this season, like the annual Rijeka Carnival – the biggest carnival held in Croatia.

Pharmacy

In Croatia pharmacists sell over-the-counter medicines for minor illnesses, but for more serious problems you will need a prescription that can be issued by a private doctor or filled by the so-called "Ljekarna", the equivalent of a pharmacy and easily recognisable by the lit green "+" sign. In most cases pharmacists do accept the prescription even if it is issued abroad.

Public Transport

The best way to get around Rijeka city centre is often on foot, but taxis, buses and hire cars can make the journey easier. Rijeka's public transportation includes the city (1st zone) and suburban (2nd, 3rd and 4th zone) bus lines. Public transport operates from 5 am to 11.30 pm, approximately every 15 minutes. The Tourist Card allows you unlimited use of Rijeka's buses. Your ticket is valid for 24, 48 or 72 hours.

The rail station is in Krešimirova street 5 (tel: +385 60 333 4444 for information), while the bus station is located at Žabica Square (tel:+ 385 60 302 010 or visit www.autotrans.hr for timetables). Scheduled bus lines connect Rijeka with bigger Croatian and European cities.

The boat harbour is located in the city centre. Information about the timetable as well as about prices and other information can be found on the Jadrolinija web page www.jadrolinija.hr. It is also possible to purchase tickets online or in person at the Jadrolinija agency located on
