From a humble village to a cosmopolitan city and a travel hub.

Dubai has transformed from a humble fishing village to one of the most cosmopolitan and innovative cities in the world today. Tracing its origins back to 3,000 BC, Dubai's inhabitants made their livelihood from fishing, pearl diving, boat building and sea trading, before the discovery of oil in the late 1960s. In 1971, Dubai joined its neighbours to form the United Arab Emirates, safeguarding the area's prosperity.

Burj Khalifa

Soaring 828m above Dubai and currently the world's tallest building, the Burj Khalifa represents a union of art, engineering and heritage.

It's home to office space, private residences, the 160-room Armani Hotel and At the Top's observation decks on the 124th and 148th floors. There are also more than 1,000 specially commissioned works of art throughout the building.

The Palm Fountain

Watch water sway to the beat at The Pointe's The Palm Fountain. Spanning an area of 14,000sqft, The Palm Fountain is also Dubai's only multicoloured one. More than 3,000 LED lights set the scene for a vibrant visual spectacle where colourful water jets shoot 105m high and dance to the tune of popular Khaleeji, pop, classic and international hits. The Palm Fountain comes alive daily with shows taking place every 30 minutes between sunset to midnight. Arrive early to spend the day at The Pointe or enjoy dinner at one of the venue's waterside restaurants for the best views.

The View at The Palm

Enjoy incomparable views of one of Dubai's most talked about landmarks at The View at The Palm. Located 240m high, the observation deck presents never seen before 360-degree panoramas of Palm Jumeirah alongside the sparkling waters of the Arabian Gulf and Dubai skyline in the distance. The View at The Palm is located on level 52 of The Palm Tower, which also houses a café, a creative exhibition, interactive aquarium-themed tunnels and a gift shop. To further elevate your sky-high sightseeing experience while here, step up to The Next Level - at 250m above ground, the private, barrier-free space is the island's highest vantage point.

Ain Dubai

Ain Dubai is the latest landmark to join the long list of record-breaking new attractions in Dubai. Located on Bluewaters Island, it offers 360-degree views of the urban skyline in a mesmerising 38-minute journey. There are three different pod experiences on offer: observation cabins, social cabins and private cabins. More than just a vantage point, Ain Dubai acts as an elevated setting for new experiences with even the wheel's base serving as an entertainment zone with a large LED screen mounted on it.

Madame Tussauds Dubai

Want to pose with the stars on the red carpet? Madame Tussauds lets you do just that. Visit the famous waxwork museum, known for crafting lifelike replicas of high-profile figures and celebrities, at Bluewaters Dubai. It is the only Madame Tussauds in the region, allowing fans of all ages to explore seven themed rooms as they look for their favourite famous faces. You'll get to mingle with international stars and meet regional heavy-hitters too, including singer Balqees Fathi and Bollywood actor Shah Rukh Khan.

Dubai Harbour

Admire the city's sparkling coastline from Dubai Harbour, a seafront district in Dubai Marina that boasts the most advanced cruise terminal and the largest marina in the region. With the ability to berth up to 700 luxury yachts and boats, the Dubai Harbour also features a 120,000sqm cruise facility with two terminals on a 910m long quay. The world-class maritime destination is already open for the public to explore, though new hotels, cafes, retail outlets and restaurants in the area will be opening in phases.

Deep Dive Dubai

The latest addition to the city's thriving sports and adventure activities scene, Deep Dive Dubai is the place to be for all aqua enthusiasts. The recreational centre's 60.02m-deep pool is certified by Guinness World Records as the world's deepest swimming pool for diving. Aside from its remarkable depth, the pool features other unrivalled underwater additions, such as a 'sunken city', alongside year-round freediving and scuba diving courses and guided experiences.

Palm Jumeirah

Gracing the city's postcards, the iconic Palm Jumeirah is an astounding feat of mankind in the form of a series of artificial archipelagos in the emerald waters of the Arabian Gulf. From above, it takes the form of a stylised palm tree. At ground level, it has some of the city's most popular beach clubs, celebrity chef restaurants and luxury hotels such as Atlantis, The Palm. The newest attractions here include The Pointe, a waterfront hub for dining and shopping experiences, and Palm West Beach. Head to The View at Palm Jumeirah where a 240m-high observation deck presents the most impressive views.

Madinat Jumeirah

For an experience that marries tradition and luxury, head to Madinat Jumeirah. Literally translated as 'City of Jumeirah', this complex is inspired by an ancient citadel complete with wind towers and water canals. It encloses luxury hotels, private enclaves built in the traditional style, the world-class Talise Spa, Souk Madinat, Madinat Theatre, and more than 40 restaurants and lounges. For a memorable meal, dine at folly by Nick & Scott which overlooks the sea from wind towers. You can also explore the meandering waterways on a traditional wooden abra to better appreciate the serene setting and inspired architecture.

The Dubai Fountain

Witness water dance at the iconic Dubai Fountain, located at the base of the Burj Khalifa. One of the largest fountains in the world, the sound and light show shoots 22,000 gallons of water as high as 150 metres in the air. Each brightly illuminated jet sways in time to music, producing what has become one of Dubai's most popular shows. Situated outside The Dubai Mall, make time to shop between evening water shows, which begin every 30 minutes. The show is free. However, to get the best view you can get on one of the boats cruising the fountain water, or book a spot on the footbridge.

DUBAI'S NEIGHBOURHOODS

DET

Wondering where to find the best restaurants, family-friendly activities or hottest art galleries? Here's a handy guide to the Dubai's hottest neighbourhoods, packed with plenty to suit all travellers. Add these easy-to-explore districts to your Dubai holiday itinerary and experience the city like a local.

Downtown Dubai & Sheikh Zayed Road

Heading into the heart of the city, it's hard to miss Downtown Dubai's key bragging rights and world-famous icons: The Dubai Mall (the most visited retail and lifestyle destination in the world), Burj Khalifa (the tallest building) and Gevora Hotel (the tallest hotel) along Sheikh Zayed Road. Record-breakers aside, visitors will find fine dining restaurants at Dubai International Financial Centre and a score of family-friendly activities including the Dubai Fountain, Dubai Aquarium and Underwater Zoo, and Souk Al Bahar. The world-class Dubai Opera and its packed line-up of live performances is also found on Downtown's palm-lined Sheikh Mohammed Bin Rashid Boulevard, along with Burj Park, a favourite host of the district's hottest festivals and pop-up events.

Photo: DET

Internet: www.visitdubai.com/en/explore-dubai/dubai-neighbourhoods/downtown-dubai

Old Dubai

The city's original centre, collectively known as Old Dubai, encompasses all the neighbourhoods that hug either side of Dubai Creek. Deira is now best known for its gold and spice souks, and fresh food markets beside abra boat wharves. Just a short abra ride to the south side of the creek is Bur Dubai, which hosts some of the city's best unsung ethnic restaurants, with untold numbers of authentic Arabic, Indian and Lebanese menus waiting to be discovered. Al Seef, part of Old Dubai's revitalisation work, highlights the district's important historical relevancy as the city's cultural hub.

Business Bay & Dubai Canal

The bustling locale of Business Bay can be found beside Sheikh Zayed Road and the city's popular waterside attraction, Dubai Water

Canal — a 3.2km long waterway that winds its way from the historic waters of the Creek in Old Dubai through Business Bay and into the Arabian Gulf.

Business Bay is home to five-star hotels and sleek office and residential towers, including The Opus by Zaha Hadid. It's also a foodie hotspot, thanks to the opening of Bleu Blanc and BASTA! by celebrity chef David Myers, complementing top lounges including The Eloquent Elephant, Treehouse Dubai and Iris. Dubai's one of a kind theatrical masterpiece, La Perle by Franco Dragone, is also staged at the nearby Habtoor City.

Dubai Design District

A hub for creative minds, the Dubai Design District (d3) is a place for designers and artists to showcase their work.

Dotted along the district are over 30 public art and design installations, including the iconic red 'My Dubai' logo. Spend an afternoon discovering the best of d3, which features lifestyle boutiques, fashion ateliers, art galleries, unique restaurant concepts and regular pop-up community events centred around arts and culture.

Palm Jumeirah

Perhaps the city's most recognisable district, Palm Jumeirah tops the lists of most visitors' to-do lists. One of the world's largest man-made islands is home to another inimitable feature — the seashell-pink arches and turrets of Atlantis, The Palm hotel, visible to travellers driving up the island's main road.

High-end hotels are a drawcard, with international hotels such as Anantara, Fairmont, W, FIVE and Waldorf Astoria. Even if you've chosen not to stay on The Palm, the iconic district is worth a visit for the fine dining restaurants, luxurious spas, beautiful beach clubs and unfettered views of the Gulf's waters. New hotspots to visit include The View at The Palm for sky-high vistas, Nakheel Mall for chic shopping and Palm West Beach for laidback lounging on the sands.

Al Quoz

At first glance, the industrial area of Al Quoz seems like an unlikely tourist destination, with rows of warehouses and factories. However, beneath the surface, Al Quoz has flourished into one of Dubai's most vibrant art and cultural hubs, with some warehouses reborn into art galleries, boutique photography studios and performance spaces.

Homegrown artisanal chocolate makers, sustainable gift stores, trampoline parks, and coffee roasters have all popped up recently in refurbished spaces. At the heart of this creative neighbourhood is Alserkal Avenue, where a series of purpose-built warehouses are home to some of Dubai's top contemporary art galleries, while community vibes abound at The Courtyard, where some of the city's entrepreneurs have set up shop.

Dubai Marina

Dubai Marina is a waterfront city, the emerald-green waters framed by some of the tallest — not to mention some of the most architecturally impressive — residential towers in the world. Foodies flock to Dubai Marina for sky-high dining with sparkling water views, while families can entertain the little ones at shaded play areas, with organised street festivals and pop-up stalls held throughout the year.

Head to the Dubai Marina Mall that sits front and centre of the impressive district. The Marina's gourmet project, Pier 7, is a destination for foodies: the tower rising from the middle of the pedestrian walk hosts seven very different, but equally delicious restaurants on each level.

Jumeirah Lakes Towers

Quiet and unassuming JLT (Jumeirah Lakes Towers) is a residential district built around four lakes — one of which was later filled in to create a 55,000sqm grass-lawned park. From dawn to well after dusk, young families, cyclists, joggers and dog-walkers populate the well-connected circuit of boardwalks and footbridges lining the waterfront, dotted with lakeside cafes, beauty salons and retail haunts. Of late, JLT has morphed into one of Dubai's top dining destinations, with a global array of culinary treasures tucked within the district's many skyscrapers. This is thanks in part to the neighbourhood's own eclectic mix of nationalities, each bringing a taste of their homeland to Dubai. Try the cheesy manakish at Bait Maryam, perfect pho at Vietnamese Foodies, Greek souvlaki at Mythos, and the best steak frites this side of Dubai at Couqley.

BEACHES & POOLS

Dubai Economic and Tourism

Dubai is one of the few places to enjoy a beach vacation within a thriving city. Experience a holiday Dubai-style, combining high-energy city action with the beauty of the Arabian Gulf. With a vibrant atmosphere and beachside shopping scene, luxury resorts and watersports, Dubai offers the best of the city and the sea. Kite Beach, La Mer and The Beach next to JBR are popular seaside spots where you can take in the waves after a leisurely stroll or jog along the water. Alternatively, Dubai's hotels offer amazing pool experiences, including infinity pools, jacuzzis, water play areas for kids, and much more.

JBR Beach

Get a taste of an idyllic beachside lifestyle and make your way down to JBR Beach - a relaxed district with restaurants, hotels, lounges and a range of family-friendly entertainment. The waters are fairly calm here, with nearby hotels offering a variety of watersports such as parasailing, wakeboarding and banana boating that anyone can sign up for. It is by far one of the most fun, family friendly beaches in Dubai, and the skyscrapers provide a spectacular backdrop to your activities, all just a quick stroll from the cafe culture of The Walk at JBR and Bluewaters Island, which can be reached via a pedestrian bridge.

Internet: www.thebeach.ae/en

Kite Beach

Discover beach life Dubai-style at Kite Beach in Umm Suqeim. You can swim, surf or even paddleboard in the gentle blue waters with a view of the iconic Burj Al Arab. There's also plenty to keep the kids entertained, including a rope climbing centre, Wire World, and a skateboard park. For a quick bite, there are plenty of cool cafes selling tasty beachside meals, including the famous food hotspot Salt.

Internet: www.kitebeach.ae/en

Beach Clubs

Spend a relaxing day at one of Dubai's luxurious beach clubs. With sun, sea, sand and sumptuous dining by day, and live music and an energetic atmosphere by night, Dubai's beach clubs have earned an international reputation among celebrities and travellers alike. Don't miss the opportunity to lounge in true Dubai fashion at Bla Bla at JBR, Nikki Beach or DRIFT at One&Only Royal Mirage. For a family-friendly option, try Riva Beach or Jumeirah Al Naseem's Summersalt.

Watersports

With more than 50km of coastline, Dubai is the perfect place to experience a range of watersports. When it comes to marine thrills, Dubai has it all: diving, sailing, jet-skiing, surfing and much more. To make the most of our clear skies and temperate days, you can opt for a leisurely sunset sail, a high-speed tour on a jet-ski or something a little more daring like flyboarding or, the latest thrill, seabreacher rides. Stop by Sky & Sea Adventures, Nemo Watersports or Surf House, or leap into deepest swimming pool in the world at Deep Dive Dubai.

La Mer

Dubai's popular beachfront address, La Mer, is a fine addition to the city's urban beach cred. This inspirational destination has transformed the suburban Jumeirah 1 neighbourhood, featuring wide open spaces with palm tree-lined boulevards, graffiti art murals and laidback beachside charm. Surrounded by almost 2.5km of relaxing sandy beaches and located near some of the city's modern landmarks, including Etihad Museum and the Dubai Water Canal, La Mer is sure to become your new favourite address to eat, play and unwind.

Palm West Beach

Sun and sea worshippers looking for new attractions in Dubai will find plenty to do on the shores of Palm Jumeirah at Palm West Beach. With all-day beachside entertainment, fabulous eateries, and the best Dubai skyline views on the 1.6km long promenade, be prepared to have a fun time with your friends and family — as well as your pets! Get your daily dose of exercise along the walking and running trail, indulge in lazy breakfasts, or build sandcastles against the backdrop of picture-perfect sunsets.

ADVENTURE

X Dubai

With year-round sun and a dramatic combination of both the desert and beach, Dubai is the perfect setting to be swept away by high-adrenaline activities. Rocket across the Arabian Gulf in a speedboat or roar along the circuit in a race car, skydive over Palm Jumeirah, ski around the World Islands, paddleboard along the coast or swim with dolphins and sharks, explore the depths of the open waters, or go diving in the deepest pool in the world. You can even leave the city and try dune driving in the desert or soar above the sand in a hot air balloon. Fasten your seatbelt, harness or helmet

- it's going to be an exciting ride.

Buggy Safaris

Head off-road with top tour operators like Dune Buggy Dubai to discover the thrills of the desert. You can find activities to suit whatever level of adventure you crave. The Morning Dune Buggy Safari features an early bird hour-long ride in your own open buggy. If you're looking for more, try the Evening Desert Safari. Here, you'll go dune driving in a brand new Land Rover. After the drive, you'll sit down for live entertainment consisting of a traditional dance show. Food, beverages and henna painting enhance the experience with sand boarding and camel riding available to keep the excitement going until late at night.

Extreme fun

The city offers plenty of alternative thrills. Freefall from 13,000 feet through the skies of Dubai and take in views of the iconic Palm Jumeirah or Arabian desert with Skydive Dubai. For more extreme fun combined with unique perspectives, book XLine - the world's longest urban zipline that's in the heart of Dubai Marina. The brave can also try the fastest human slingshot in the region at Kite Beach, where you'll be propelled at speeds of up to 100 km/hr.

Flyboarding

Thrill-seekers can get their kicks at sea at Jumeirah Beach, where Dubai's latest toys are getting hearts racing. Flyboarding, also known as water jet-packing, sees adventure lovers fitted into a small board and strapped to a specially-made backpack that sucks up seawater, before spitting it back out, propelling the rider into the air. If you have never tried it before, no worries. Even beginners will be able to manoeuvre themselves around the marina - just be prepared to make a splash crash-landing the first few attempts.

Jet-Ski

Have fun on the water and at the same time take in some of Dubai's famous landmarks with a jet-ski session. With its pristine coastline and azure blue waters, it's the perfect place to master new moves. Most watersports tour operators offer a range of options, accompanied by a qualified instructor.

Quad Biking

Direct your taxi driver to Dubai's most famous sand dune, Big Red, where you can hop on a quad bike and navigate the sandy landscape yourself. Available to hire by the half hour, the quad bikes are speedy with a helmet provided for safety.

Follow the natural trail of the dunes, kicking sand in the face of your fellow riders as you hurtle and bounce over Dubai's most iconic patch of sand. Big Red is easy to spot along the Dubai-Hatta (E44) highway. Ask your driver to wait, or hire one for the day.

Sandboarding

This is one for true adrenaline-seekers. Strap this snowboard-like contraption to your feet and glide down the dunes, just like you would at the slopes of Ski Dubai. While it's possible to rent a sandboard at Big Red, there are a number of tour companies that offer the full experience including Dream Explorer Dubai, Desert Rangers and Lama Dubai. It may look tricky but you'll soon learn all the tips and tricks to make it down the dunes smoothly.

Camping

Take in the rugged landscape of Hatta, nestled in the rocky Hajar Mountains. Explore the centuries-old attractions or simply take in views of the striking scenes from your own camping tent. Hatta has been enjoying a renaissance of late thanks to an array of new hotspots including a dedicated adventure centre, luxe lodges and a trailer-park themed resort. For more overnight thrills, try glamping in the serene sands of the Arabian desert.

Leading operators including Platinum Heritage and Arabian Adventures offer their own unique take on glamping in Dubai, complete with astronomy sessions, private majlis areas and after-dark wildlife spotting.

Dubai Safari

Featuring the largest and most diverse number of wildlife species in the UAE, Al Warqa's Dubai Safari is home to 2,500 animals. Adventurers can encounter monkeys, lions, giraffes, crocodiles and a whole lot more as they explore the park's four themed sections: the Arabian, Asian, African and Safari Village. The eco-friendly park, which is primarily powered by solar energy, now aims to be one of the top 10 zoos in the world, thanks to its commitment to animal conservation, protection and education.

Hot Air Balloon

Step away from the city and float 1,200 metres above the desert dunes with a hot air balloon tour. The adventure usually starts at sunrise, followed by an hour-long flight that's worth the early wake-up. Following whichever way the desert breeze blows, you'll get breathtaking views of the rolling red sands, rising sun, grazing gazelles, and majestic Hajar Mountains. With a variety of packages to choose from with Balloon Adventures Dubai and Hot Air Balloon, you can make it a romantic rendezvous, corporate celebration or an unforgettable family experience.

Hatta Wadi Hub

Hatta Wadi Hub is the new home of action and adventure. Visitors can try a range of exciting activities, including archery, wall climbing, freefall jumps and adventure rope courses. Make time to go twin zip-lining with a friend, whizzing past the dramatic mountain scenery together. Then cool off at the Hatta Drop-in, the first water jump park in Asia, or be bowled over by zorbing — a fun sport that sees brave adventurers roll downhill inside a giant transparent orb. After a long day of exploring, pitch up a tent and sleep under the stars at the dedicated Hatta Campsite or, for a luxury twist, book a stay at the Hatta Damani Lodges and Hatta Sadr Trailers.

THE DESERT

Dubai Economy and Tourism

Safaris, sunsets and star-gazing

When it comes to Dubai's majestic desert, visitors have many options to discover its beautiful landscape. Beyond the popular off-roading or desert safaris, there's much to do amid the dunes. Whether you're taking in some history with a traditional Bedouin meal, cycling through Al Qudra or watching for wildlife, don't miss the opportunity to experience the desert. Visit a resort or conservation reserve, or simply watch the sunset before some stargazing.

Desert Safaris

If there is one thing you cannot miss it's an Arabian Adventures desert safari. Take a backseat (unless, of course, you prefer to sit at the front of your 4x4), strap in and hold on tight as an experienced driver takes on the rolling dunes, teetering on the edge of seemingly sheer drops, before dipping down sandy slopes and back up again. There are a couple of stops for photos before you're safely whisked away to a traditional-style Bedouin camp, where a sumptuous Arabic buffet awaits.

Desert Hotels

Some of Dubai's most luxurious hotels are located in the desert. Get a taste of old Arabia at Bab Al Shams Desert Resort & Spa, just half an hour from the city centre. Al Maha Desert Resort & Spa in the Dubai Desert Conservation Reserve takes glamping to another level, with luxury tented-style villas that feature private infinity pools. Desert stays offer activities like safaris through the dunes, archery, wildlife experiences and more.

Desert Activities

There are a few cities in the world that have both the desert and beach right on their doorstep. To Dubai's advantage, the azure coastline and sun-burnt dunes are only about an hour's drive apart, meaning you can surf in the morning and sand board in the afternoon. The most common desert activity is a safari, which often includes off-roading, camel rides and a taste of Emirati cuisine. Other activities include stargazing, falconry experiences, sandboarding and camping or glamping.

Al Marmoom

Head out to the Al Marmoom Camel Race Track for a modern-day take on the traditional Emirati sport of camel racing. The excitement is contagious and something you must see to believe as the camels race down the track towards the finish line. The season runs from October to April, with weekend races taking place early in the morning from 6:30am to 9am.

Desert Dining

There are many ways to dine in the desert. Heritage dinner safaris teach you how to cook a local dish, while desert safaris offer off-roading followed by a barbecue meal at a desert camp. For comfy views of the desert, upscale resorts feature live cooking stations, wood-fired ovens and traditional majlis-style seating. Try luxurious Bedouin camping and spend the night with dinner, a hot breakfast and a drive to see the local wildlife at dawn.

Desert Conservation

Covering 225sqkms, the Dubai Desert Conservation Reserve (DDCR) is one of the largest areas to be declared as a protected nature reserve in the country. Guided wildlife tours are available, but all activities are carefully organised to ensure that local flora and fauna continue to thrive. The unfenced Al Marmoom Conservation Reserve, which spans 10 percent of the emirate's total area, is another exciting endeavour.

SHOPPING

Dubai Economy and Tourism

Between Dubai's grandiose malls including The Dubai Mall and Mall of the Emirates to traditional souks such as the Gold Souk and Perfume Souk, you're practically guaranteed to find a souvenir to treasure from your holiday to Dubai. Plus, with massive citywide shopping celebrations like Dubai Shopping Festival (DSF) and Dubai Summer Surprises (DSS), you could snag the deal of a lifetime during your visit to this global shopping destination.

Malls

From chic outdoor shopping precincts to super-sized city malls, there's no better place to indulge in retail therapy than Dubai. And it's not just the shopping that attracts; there's also ice rinks, ski slopes, fabulous cinemas, spas and restaurant districts to keep you entertained. Take in the attractions of The Dubai Mall, Mall of the Emirates, City Walk, Nakheel Mall and The Beach opposite JBR as a starting point.

Internet: www.visitdubai.com/en/articles/the-best-shopping-malls-in-dubai

Souks

Lavish gold jewellery, hand-woven fabrics, oud fragrances and bargain knick-knacks — you'll find it all in our bustling souks, or Arabian markets. While the emirate lives up to its reputation as a thriving modern city, the souks have been a crucial part of daily life and trade for centuries. For an immersive cultural experience, visit the gold, spice, perfume and textile souks in Dubai's historical neighbourhoods of Deira and Bur Dubai and, for a modern take, visit Souk Madinat Jumeirah or Souk Al Bahar.

Beachside Shopping

If you're looking for stylish boutiques, al fresco dining or simply a leisurely promenade along the waterfront, head to The Walk at Jumeirah Beach Residence (JBR). Along this buzzing boulevard, there are plenty of opportunities to satisfy your retail cravings with an array of fashion, home and handicraft shops and boutiques. For more laidback fun, head to La Mer in Jumeirah 1. This vibrant precinct reflects a marine theme, with plenty of bustling beachside attractions including a free-jumping inflatable playground for little ones and fun-fuelled water sports at Sea Breeze.

Luxury Shopping

There's no place like Dubai for shopping. From The Dubai Mall's Level Shoes store to the glorious Fashion Dome at the Mall of the Emirates, Dubai offers a glamorous and indulgent retail experience. Excellent locations are matched with superb in-store service, immersive brand activations and beautiful store designs to create an unforgettable experience. For a more exclusive touch, the city's best malls also offer personal shopping and styling services, chauffeurs so you can save your energy for shopping, and even at-home delivery of all your purchases. Ready, set, shop.

Boutiques

Go off the beaten track to one of Dubai's emerging boutique shopping districts such as d3 (Dubai Design District), which showcases an array of quirky and contemporary products, or Al Quoz, which features cutting-edge galleries and contemporary Arabian interiors. There's also excellent boutique shopping at City Walk, BoxPark, JBR, La Mer and Jumeirah. Check out Urbanist, Comptoir 102, and keep an eye out for pop-up markets with local designers. There are also plenty of homegrown fashion labels including All Things Mochi, L'Afshar, Taller Marmo and Bil Arabi to choose from.

Markets

From organic produce and local design markets like Police Academy Park's Ripe Market to seasonal events like the Ramadan Night Markets,

Market OTB and Beach Canteen, Dubai loves a good market. Don't miss the chance to take home treasures from Dubai's oldest markets like the gold, spice, perfume and textile souks, or a sample the best of modern Arabia at a seasonal pop-up.

Internet:

www.visitdubai.com/en/articles/a-guide-to-dubai-markets

Homegrown Labels

Take a walk in the edgier precincts including Dubai Design District (d3) and Alserkal Avenue for a look at Dubai's homegrown favourites.

The city boasts its own boutique chocolatiers, Mirzam, that crafts indulgent sweet treats from their factory in Al Quoz. Meanwhile The Lighthouse at d3 has a curated selection of travel accessories and lifestyle products. There are also plenty of homegrown fashion labels including All Things Mochi, L'Afshar, Taller Marmo and Bil Arabi to name a few.

DINING

Dubai Economy and Tourism

There's nothing the people of Dubai love more than to dress up and dine out. You can choose from a glittering array of celebrity restaurants and a huge variety of Middle Eastern food, plenty of them family-friendly and almost all in Instagram-worthy locations.

Emirati Cuisine

While modern flavours and techniques influence Emirati food, the cuisine still retains much of its traditional character. A medley of aromatic spices such as cinnamon, saffron, turmeric and nutmeg take centre stage alongside dried fruits and fresh herbs like coriander, mint and thyme. Try traditional harees, mandi and karak tea at restaurants like Logma at The Dubai Mall and Al Fanar Restaurant & Cafe at Dubai Festival City.

Cafes & Bakeries

Whether it's coffee you're after or a bakery bite, there's no shortage of cafes in Dubai. Park House and Surf Café offer laidback vibes near the beach, while Tom & Serg in Dubai's art district is one of a kind. For a caffeine fix in Dubai's financial district, visit Common Ground or try the lavender honey latte at The Brass while shopping at City Walk. If you're passing by Galleria Mall, satisfy your sweet tooth at Home Bakery.

Fine Dining

With celebrity chefs, rooftop terraces, spectacular cuisine – foodies can taste delicious concepts in Dubai's amazing fine-dining establishments. Try Peruvian cuisine at Coya, French favourites at LPM Restaurant, Italian classics at Cipriani or superb seafood at Pierchic. If you're looking for fine dining with Arabian flair, options offering both gourmet cuisine and a world-class atmosphere include Al Nafoorah, Ninive and Ewaan.

Celebrity Chefs

Some of the world's most esteemed chefs set up restaurants in Dubai, adding to the city's ever-increasing portfolio of high-end dining. Sink your teeth into Italy's finest fare at Social by Heinz Beck or Torno Subito by Massimo Bottura, British bites at Gordon Ramsay's Bread Street Kitchen, Japanese signatures at Nobu in Atlantis, The Palm or Akira Back at W Dubai, or memorable French dishes at Pierre's TT by Pierre Gagnaire.

Kid-Friendly Restaurants

It can be a challenge to get your children to eat what's on their plates. Fortunately, Dubai is filled with restaurants serving kid-friendly meals, with menus featuring international specialties served with a side of entertainment. Even the fussiest of eaters will find something to enjoy in the city. Try a weekend brunch at The Westin Mina Seyahi, lunch at Carluccio's at malls across the city, or the themed Masha And The Bear Restaurant at The Beach opposite JBR.

Beachside Dining

Imagine this: the sound of crashing waves, the scent of the beach and a delectable feast on your table. We have the best selection of beachside dining, from fresh seafood at Fish Beach Taverna or international cuisine at Jetty Lounge, to a quick, quirky bite at Al Ijaza Cafeteria and unbeatable sliders at homegrown Salt. For a guaranteed good time with live music or a DJ, visit the favourite local party spot, Barasti. Alternatively, for a gourmet experience by the water, head to Jumeirah Beach Hotel's Villa Beach or Shimmers at Mina A' Salam.

Outdoor Dining

From fresh catches and char-grilled steaks to Turkish pide, few places do outdoor dining more innovatively than Dubai. As a city constantly bathed in sunlight, Dubai knows how to enjoy good weather, with the winter months ideal for al fresco eating. Try carine or Nammos, while fine dining outdoors is at its prime at Pierchic at Jumeirah Al Qasr. Dubai is also known for rooftop options such as Mercury Lounge, Level 43 and the ZETA Seventy Seven with awe-inducing panoramic views.

Vegan & Healthy Eating

Healthy eating options are popping up all over Dubai. Locally grown organic food and superb locations are fuelling a vibrant health food culture. From the beaches of Jumeirah to the historic winding alleys of Al Fahidi Historical Neighbourhood, Dubai has everything from cold-pressed juices to paleo salads. Our healthy eateries include innovative names from around the world like France's Wild & the Moon and homegrown gems like Comptoir 102, SEVA and XVA Café.

Street Food

Explore a different side of Dubai with a walking food tour or simply forge your own path, making sure not to miss Ravi's, Special Ostadi and Al Mallah.

Sample Dubai's food truck culture with sliders from the iconic Salt truck on Kite Beach, or keep your options open at Last Exit's themed parks. While in Dubai, don't miss the opportunity to dig into the flavours of the Levant and Gulf region with quick stops that are also easy on the wallet - Bait Al Mandi in Al Barsha is famed for its chicken and rice, while Zaroob is known for its mouth-watering manakish.

Experiential Dining

For anyone looking to get more from their meal, Dubai offers a host of novel dining options that have broken away from the norm. Experience molecular gastronomy with Indian flavours at Trèsind Studio, sail into the sunset on a luxury yacht and enjoy aboard Bateaux Dubai, or dine in the desert at Al Maha Resort and Bab Al Shams. There's also the chance to dine at underwater-themed restaurants such as Ossiano at Atlantis, The Palm and Al Mahara at Burj Al Arab.

Business Restaurants

Dubai is a cosmopolitan city of diversity at the crossroads of Europe, Asia and Africa. For business travellers, the emirate combines excellent infrastructure, world-class cuisine and a playground of leisure activities when you're off the clock. Some of the most fruitful business transactions happen over a meal — we recommend Atmosphere, Café Belge or Zuma to seal the deal. Want to take the edge off? Head to the more relaxed settings at Clay at Bluewaters Island or Cargo at Dubai Marina's Pier 7.

Private Dining

If you're looking for a table for two, Dubai's most exclusive destinations will indulge any special celebration. Headed by some of Dubai's finest chefs, these restaurants are elegant, ambient and incredibly lavish. Make a reservation at The Cellar at BOCA, Dining by Design pop-up locations at Anantara The Palm, or the chef's table at GAIA.

ARTS & CULTURE

Dubai Economy and Tourism

With Dubai Opera, the arts district Al Quoz and the discovery of relics from the Iron Age, Dubai is fast evolving into a cultural hotspot. The city's highlights range from the ancient past to stark modernity, and there is no better time to see its evolution than now.

Museums

Learn about Dubai's origins, traditions and culture at one of the city's many museums. Take the time to explore the Coin Museum in Al Fahidi

Historical Neighbourhood, which showcases precious coins from different historical eras. Don't miss our other museums, like Saruq Al-Hadid, which unlocks the mysteries of the Iron Age, Etihad Museum that tells the story of the UAE's formation, and Al Shindagha Museum that brings Dubai's seafaring past to life.

Art Galleries

Discover the region's contemporary art scene in Dubai, where galleries in locations like DIFC, Alserkal Avenue and d3 (Dubai Design District) are leading the charge with a year round calendar of cutting edge exhibitions. In March, Dubai celebrates art, with the much-awaited art exhibition Art Dubai and World Art Dubai attracting leading creatives, gallery owners and experts.

Historical Neighbourhood

Escape the city's skyscrapers and travel back in time with a trip to Al Fahidi Historical Neighbourhood. This atmospheric area is one of the oldest heritage sites in the city, with a neighbourhood that dates back to the early 1900s. A tour of the area offers a beguiling glimpse into the Dubai of a bygone era including traditional wind towers, bustling courtyards and a maze of winding alleyways. This neighbourhood is home to art galleries, restaurants and charming souvenir shops.

SPORTS

Dubai Economy and Tourism

Dubai's world-class tennis courts, golf courses and sports clubs are here to help you achieve your personal best. Whether you're looking to tee off at an iconic golf course or challenge friends to a game of football, there's plenty to pursue. Plus, the fun carries on throughout the year with cool indoor facilities hosting all the action during the summer months.

Golf

Home to some of the world's top 100 golf courses and host to three European Tour events, Dubai is firmly on the global golf radar. Choose from top courses like Emirates Golf Club and Jumeirah Golf Estates - both selected for world rankings. Others include the Els Club, Dubai Creek Golf and Yacht Club, Dubai Hills and The Address Montgomerie Dubai. Our advice: opt for an afternoon weekday tee-off to beat the crowds, watch the sunset and finish at sundown in time for a relaxing evening.

Internet: www.golfindubai.com

Horse & Camel Racing

With horses and camels being such an integral part of Dubai's history, it's no surprise that they're equally a part of its present. Every year, Dubai World Cup draws the equestrian elite of the world and Dubai's sophisticated society to the Meydan racecourse to back their favourite stallion. Likewise, popular camel races take place along the sandy tracks of Al Marmoom and Jebel Ali with thundering camels reaching speeds of up to 40 km/h.

Running

Dubai loves a good run, and there are many locations to take in beautiful city views while jogging. Breeze past the ever-evolving cityscape of Dubai Marina or the leafy green Safa Park, while for a seascape and skyline view, try the track parallel to Jumeirah Beach Road, which stretches for 14km past Kite Beach, Burj Al Arab and Dubai Canal. Alternatively, sprint along Palm Jumeirah's Boardwalk, with views of Dubai's Downtown and Marina skylines.

Watersports

Diving, sailing, jet-skiing, surfing, paddle-boarding... when it comes to marine thrills Dubai has it all. With more than 50km of coastline, watersports abound in Dubai. Making the most of the clear skies and temperate days, you can opt for a leisurely dusk sail, a high-speed tour on a jet-ski or something a little more daring like flyboarding or wakeboarding. If you're keen to experience Dubai from the sea for sightseeing and watersports, simply charter a boat.

Hiking

Surrounded by the Hajar Mountains, Hatta is covered in undulating peaks and troughs, perfect for hiking and trekking along the winding wadis at the foothills of the mountains near Oman's border. A popular spot is behind the much-visited Hatta Dam, offering stunning panoramic views. There are currently five official hiking routes mapped out, but advanced trekkers can venture into the rugged mountains for more challenges and some surprises.

NATURE

Dubai Economy and Tourism

Take a break from the stunning Dubai skyline and explore the natural wonders that make the city come alive. There are enormous green spaces with picturesque lakes and lawns right in the heart of the emirate. Discover on your own, or take advantage of tour guides who specialise in the region's diverse flora and fauna.

Parks

Dubai has an abundance of picturesque parks with cosy spots to spend the day. Zabeel Park, which occupies more than 47 hectares, is equipped with entertaining and educational exhibits and the spectacular Dubai Frame. Safa Park, where people can relax under lush trees or jog along the track, now brings waterfront views thanks to the Dubai Water Canal. If you're up for a drive, make your way to Hatta Hill Park for a picnic with mountain views.

Ecotourism

Thanks to responsible tourism practices, you can get up-close-and-personal with Dubai's local flora and fauna without putting the environment under stress. Head to the Dubai Desert Conservation Reserve to enjoy guided tours and unobstructed views of the majestic landscape and stay overnight at Al Maha Desert Resort, an award-winning and eco-friendly hotel located within the reserve. Closer to town, you can visit the Ras Al Khor Wildlife Sanctuary where the flamingos steal the show.

Animal Experiences

From marine experiences to winter wonderlands, Dubai offers many opportunities to meet wildlife. Dolphin Bay at Atlantis, The Palm is one of the most sophisticated dolphin habitats in the world. Say hello to more sea creatures at Dubai Aquarium & Underwater Zoo, or enjoy an afternoon with penguins at Ski Dubai. You can also watch local animals in their natural habitat at Ras Al Khor Wildlife Sanctuary, participate in the turtle rehabilitation project at Burj Al Arab or visit rainforest animals at The Green Planet in City Walk.

Ras Al Khor Wildlife Sanctuary

Dubai is not just a desirable hotspot for millions of tourists each year - it's the destination of choice for tens of thousands of migrating birds. In the wetlands, just metres away from the busy city, you'll find the Ras Al Khor Wildlife Sanctuary. Translated as "Cape of the Creek", Ras Al Khor sits at the mouth of Dubai's Creek and is among the few protected urban areas in the world. Don't miss the flamingos; they steal the show.

Desert Wildlife

The Dubai desert is rich with hundreds of species of wildlife, particularly in the dedicated conservation areas. Keep an eye out for desert dwellers including Arabian oryx, gazelle and hundreds of bird species when you venture outdoors. The oryx's white body and long straight horns make a regal statement against the sand. Keep your eyes peeled for Dubai's other native wildlife including desert foxes, geckos and lizards.

Birds

Bird-watching and falconry are Dubai's pastimes of old; the Al Qudra lakes are home to more than 170 types of bird species, including flamingos and swans. Don't miss the opportunity to experience Dubai's heritage of falconry, where these majestic birds soar through the sky and swoop down at tremendous speeds to catch game in what is one of the most exciting sports in the region. Visit Bab Al Shams and Al Maha resorts to admire the skill and speed of both falcon and falconer.

Marine Life

Whether you're spending a day at the beach, on the water, or under the sea with one of Dubai's dive centres, don't miss your chance to have an underwater adventure in the Arabian Gulf. Off the coast of Dubai, you'll find a rich array of marine life, including dugongs, dolphins, turtles, sharks and 500 species of fish. In Dubai's warmer summer months, diving is a favourite pastime among locals.

NIGHTLIFE

Dubai Economy and Tourism

Get ready for a night to remember in Dubai. The city boasts rooftop lounges with skyscraper views, iconic venues for a glamorous evening with friends and chic speakeasys that combine the best in food, music and entertainment.

Shopping

Late-night shopping is part of Dubai culture, with most malls open late – during the week, malls close around 10 or 11pm while weekend hours stretch until midnight. Often, especially during peak shopping seasons like Dubai Shopping Festival in winter, Dubai Summer Surprises and Ramadan, Dubai's most popular malls have extended hours – some as late as 2am.

Lounges

Want a chilled-out atmosphere with a touch of 'big night out'? Make a reservation at one of Dubai's lounges. Whether you're looking for a rooftop view or a beachside breeze, a swanky ambience or relaxed vibe, we've got you covered.

Our favourites include beachside vibes at Jetty Lounge and panoramic views of the Burj Khalifa in all its glory from Treehouse. Other perfect spots include Vii Dubai at Conrad hotel, Sunken Garden at the Ritz-Carlton DIFC and Siddharta Lounge by Buddha Bar at Grosvenor House.

Cinema

For a late-night experience for the whole family, have a movie night. Many of Dubai's top shopping destinations include amazing cinema experiences, like VIP packages, IMAX screenings, and even menus prepared by a celebrated chef such as the Guy Fieri menu at Reel Dine-In. During the winter months, outdoor cinemas and open-air screenings are also very popular.

Dynamic Nightspots

Dubai's dynamic nightspots are second to none. From rooftop lounges with unmatched views, to venues for dancing and partying the night away, we've got it all. For a romantic ambience with live music or an in-house DJ, try Nola or Jazz@Pizza Express. Take it into the early hours at the famous White, Gotha Club, Drai's (open seasonally) and Billionaire Mansion. Whether it's low-key lounging or high-energy beats, Dubai is sure to show you a good time.

Getting around

Upon arriving at Dubai International Airport, you're connected to every major neighbourhood in the city via the Dubai Metro. Most of the city's main attractions, including The Dubai Mall, Burj Khalifa and Dubai Marina can be reached directly via the metro or tram. Simply purchase a prepaid Nol card from any metro station, to use on the metro, tram and buses. The city's ubiquitous yellow and red topped taxis are available streetside. For those with data services, a cab from Uber, or the local ride-hailing equivalent Careem, is just a tap away.
