Region Gotland

There's something very special about Gotland. It might be the light, the beaches and the ever present sea. The fact that the island is one of the sunniest places in Sweden - even in November - certainly helps. Or it could be the cultural heritage, the history you can see and feel everywhere. Or the people: down-to-earth, hospitable folk who make the most of life. Perhaps it's the bustling street life in the walled city of Visby, or the scenery, the open and inviting landscape. You're welcome to discover and explore this one-of-a-kind island.

THE ISLAND

Region Gotland

Gotland's exciting history is what makes magic. People have been coming here since the stone age. The Vikings set out from here on their trading voyages and kings fought to be able to say the island was theirs. Pirates harried its shores, merchants brought their peerless ware here and erected imposing houses. People of every period have left their traces, alive and visible to this day! As soon as you approach the island of Gotland, you notice the unique environment: dramatic cliffs and miles of beaches facing the ocean, which is sometimes stormy, sometimes calm. Regardless of the weather, you leave your stress behind and feel calm. The barrenness and simplicity overwhelms, the mind opens up to new impressions. In this beautiful calm, far from noise of the big city, you receive inspiration and strength for new ideas and thoughts. Another year, another list of great reasons to visit Gotland. Unique scenery and culture, fascinating history, fabulous shopping and activities to blow your mind. A superb climate and mouthwatering cuisine create magical memories to think back on when everyday life seems dreary and you long for something different, relaxing, inspirational and fun. More and more, visitors are finding their Gotland outside the summer season. Many of them come here in the spring, autumn and winter for particular events. It might be to compete in the Gotland Grand National - the world's biggest enduro event - to go on a truffle safari, or to visit Ingmar Bergman's Fårö. Or maybe it's to savour the early vegetables at Primör-Premiären, to attend a meeting in the world heritage city of Visby, or to walk on the beach and feel energized by lungfuls of fresh air. There's so much of Gotland to enjoy year-round. You'll discover a different island, that's for sure, but one that's perhaps even more magical.

VISBY IN 4 HOURS

Region Gotland

Visby was the main centre of the Hanseatic League in the Baltic from the 12th to the 14th century. The Hanseatic town of Visby was inscribed on the World Heritage List in 1995 with the following justification: Visby is an outstanding example of a north European medieval walled trading town which preserves with remarkable completeness a townscape and assemblage of high-quality ancient buildings that illustrate graphically the form and function of this type of significant human settlement.

Almedalen

Almedalen is and has long been a meeting place in Visby. Once this place was the city's port. Today, the lush park is a nice relaxing place to spend some time in.

Strandgatan

Strandgatan dates to the Viking Age. It was also medieval Visby's main street. Merchants' warehouses stood side by side along the street with the Old Pharmacy being a well-preserved example.

Kruttornet

The Powder Tower is the oldest tower in the city wall and built in the 1100s. It provided protection for the harbour during the Middle Ages when Almedalen was a harbour. The tower was named Powder Tower in the 18th century when the Swedish state stored gunpowder in the tower.

Fiskargränd

Visby has plenty of narrow and cosy alleys, Fiskargränd, with its roses, is the most famous of them and one of the most photographed places in Visby.

The Botanical Garden

The Botanical Garden was founded in 1855 and has since been a popular oasis in Visby. Here you'll find many unusual plants, for example, fig tree, mulberry tree and also a large selection of roses, some of the roses even bloom well into late autumn. The garden is open all year round. No entrance fee.

In the year 1226 the Dominican friars also known as the black friars came to Visby and St Nicholas church. The Dominican monks stayed in Visby until 1525 when the church and convent was burnt down during a German attack against the city.

Kyrkberget och Klinten

If you walk up the steps next to the St Maria Cathedral, you will have a stunning view over Visby and the Baltic sea from "Kyrkberget". Klinten, meaning the cliff, on which small cottages were built for the poorer population in the late 1700s is today a well preserved area under heritage protection.

S:ta Maria domkyrka

Visby's beautiful cathedral is both a place of worship and a cultural treasure. The construction of the cathedral began in the late 12th century, funded by the fees paid by German ships using the port of Visby. Since 1572 it has been the Diocesan church of Visby, and in 2003 it also became the cathedral abroad for the Church of Sweden.

Stora torget och S:ta Karins ruin

Gotland Tourist Information Centre

The Tourist Information Centre is in the heart of Visby, on Donners plats just next to Almedalen.

They love helping visitors and giving up-to-date advice on what's going on in Visby and across the island. You might want to know which beach would suit you the best, where you find the nearest sea stack to Visby or the easiest way to get to Fårö by public transport. They know everything that's going on and everything you mustn't miss on Gotland and their genuine expertise is a rich source of help, ideas and inspiration. The tourist Information Centre also has souvenirs, books, gifts and lots of inspiring information about Gotland, not to mention help buying tickets for events, bus passes and booking last-minute accommodation. Eat & Drink

Visby has more restaurants per head of population than anywhere else in Sweden. In other words if you love food and drink you've come to the right place! Flavours from all around the world blend with local ingredients in trendy eateries and cosy, atmospheric dining rooms. A popular dessert is saffron pancake with whipped cream and dewberry jam (salmbärssylt). Most restaurants are located at Donners Plats, Strandgatan, Wallérs Plats and Stora Torget.

TOP 10

Region Gotland

Gotland is perhaps best known for its sea stacks, which originates from a time when Gotland was located near the equator. Much has happened since then but sea stacks stands there still, proud and strong monuments from a past era.

The world heritage site of Visby is another obvious point on the to-do list, both as an attraction in itself but also as a backdrop to the bustling street life.

This is obviously just a small sample of what the island has to offer but it's a good start. Additionally, you will surely find further adventures along the way.

Gotlands Museum

A must-see when visiting Gotland is the Gotlandic picture stones, the treasures and the fossils - magical and unique in their kind.
