Karlstad is a wonderfully compact Swedish city, built on a grid pattern with wide, tree-lined streets, avenues, promenades, and squares. Karlstad has a "big city" feel, with many quality hotel and other accommodation options, with the advantage that city's many attractions are just a short walk away: shopping streets, malls and arcades, culture, historical sites, urban nature activities, parks, transport, and amenities. Don't forget that this is child-friendly Sweden and children are welcome everywhere in Karlstad.

THE CITY

Mikael Hjerpe/Shutterstock.com

The city of Karlstad lies on the river delta where two of Sweden's great natural waterways meet; the 500 km long Klarälven and the mighty Lake Vänern, with its archipelago of 22,000 islands.

Klarälven sets the tone of both the style and atmosphere as does the people's reputation for warmth, friendliness and hospitality in Karlstad. As the river meanders through the city its banks fill with traditional Swedish and international cuisine restaurants, café's, eateries, nightspots and places of interest. When summer comes to Karlstad, people come to the banks and the shores of Lake Vänern to enjoy the almost constant daylight that comes with the Swedish summer.

Karlstad is the largest city in the province of Värmland. This naturally makes it a magnet for everyone who is looking for good shopping, entertainment, culture and major events.

Turning back the clock, Karlstad's history stretches down through the ages; to the Viking times at Tingvalla in the heart of the city. Karlstad received its charter in 1584 and it is named after King Karl IX of Sweden ("Karl's town", or "Charles" town). The fine architecture, the museums, typically Swedish country houses, manors, buildings and historical sites in and around the city testify to Karlstad's importance to the region and Sweden through the ages.

Stadsträdgården

In many Swedish cities during the mid 19th century there were ambitions to build parks. They were inspired by parks on the continent.

The ambition was not any different in Karlstad and in the 1860s the work began to lay out a city park. In the early history of the park there were a school for gardeners and a nursery here. After a fire in the old restaurant in 1959 the Karlstad City Park lay fallow until 1993. Today the park has a great selection of trees, bushes and flowers. Sundstabadet adventure pool

Your kids will love you for taking them here. What kid doesn't love waterslides, climbing walls, heated pools and even a very own kid's pool? And it's just a short stroll from the town centre. Sundstabadet has a fully equipped gym, relax section and a 25-metre long pool for doing laps.

Sundstabadet has two differences water slider, Black Hole and Magic Hole. The differences between them is that kids (and perhaps a co-pilot) fire down the latter in a single or double ring that decides whether they achieve warp-speed - or not. The Black Hole is not quite as fast, as the point here is to collect points by skimming over the illuminated points inside the slide. If your kids get bored of the slides (and how could they?) point them in the direction of the climbing wall that they climb up...and then fall off, usually in quick succession, into the heated pool below.

There are also two heated pools for the little once.

All this calorie sapping activity means that kids are going to get hungry. The café here serves Fairtrade coffee and all the dairy products are ecological. Sandwiches, snacks, cakes, biscuits and most importantly coffee are all on the menu. The café opens on to the kid's section so you can order 'pool side'.

DINING

Robyn Mackenzie/Shutterstock.com

How about some fresh Vänern smoked salmon, or maybe even homemade meatballs with tangy, zesty lingonberry. Ever tried pea soup and pancakes (only eaten on Thursdays in Sweden)? Traditional Swedish food is called husmanskost in Swedish, and is typically simple, hearty fare of beef, pork, fish (pickled herring anyone) and other, locally sourced ingredients. It differs by region, but if you get the chance, go for moose, reindeer, raw spiced salmon and different types of herring. You can enjoy all of them here in Karlstad.

BARS & NIGHTLIFE

Kamil Macniak/Shutterstock.com

Karlstad has a large selection of places to grab a drink, everything from bars with modern style to bars with older furnishing and a great charm. Looking for a late-night out? There are also many nightclubs to choose from. You can find both traditional nightlife as well as several places that offer live music.

Nöjesfabriken

The Swedish word Nöjesfabriken is literally translated as "the entertainment factory" and given that it is housed in an old factory, it's a pretty good name. You can listen to concerts with international artists or play disco bowling, or if you want to lower the tempo, there is both a restaurant and a bar here.

GOLF

Martin Kucera/Shutterstock.com

One week - seven kicking golf courses around Karlstad and you can play as early, or as late as you want in the summer months. Imagine telling your friends back home about the time you played golf at midnight in full light.

The seven courses we have picked for you are no more than 30 minutes by car from Karlstad, so you can stay in the city, sample its delights and get in 18 holes or more during the day. There are many quality hotels in the city, all centrally located, that offer golf packages. You can also choose from quality hotels, country house stays, cottages and cabins for rent, as well as hostels or camping areas. Some of the golf courses also offer comfortable accommodation options and they have quality eateries where you can recharge your batteries between rounds.

SHOPPING

kikovic/Shutterstock.com

Shopping is a breeze in Karlstad. The brilliant thing about shopping in Karlstad is that all the shops are within walking distance in the city. And the biggest shopping centre in Karlstad and the Ikea store outside the city are just a short bus ride or drive away.

City centre

In Karlstad city centre you'll find all the big, established Swedish retail brands like Lindex (women's wear), Åhléns (department store), all with their own stores. In the smaller stores and boutiques you'll also find rising stars of the international and Swedish fashion scenes such as Odd Molly, Filippa K, Whyred, J. Lindberg, Nudie Jeans and Cheap Monday jeans. And as for legendary Swedish art glass, crystal and tableware, look no further than Kosta and Orrefors which you'll find in stores on the streets that criss-cross Järnvägsgatan and Drottninggatan. Still in the city, you can also shop at "Mitt i City", "Duvanhuset", "15-huset", shopping centres that sell Swedish and international goods and products, as well as restaurants and cafés.

Bergvik shopping centre

Why not visit Ikea on its home turf? We won't bother telling you what to look out for at Ikea, you probably live close to one. Ikea lies beside Bergvik Köpcentrum (shopping centre) just outside town. Bergvik was awarded 'shopping centre of the year' in Sweden in 2008, with its 68 shops, restaurants and cafés. All the big Swedish names are here and look out in particular for Swedish-design clothes and accessories, outdoor wear, household goods, glassware, textiles and kitchenware.

Passport/Visa

Sweden can be visited visa-free for up to 90 days by citizens of most European countries, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, Malaysia, Israel, UAE and most countries in America. If you are unsure whether or not you need to apply for a visa, we recommend contacting the embassy or consulate in your country. International (non-Schengen) travellers need a passport that is valid for at least 3 months after the end of their intended trip in order to enter the Schengen zone. Citizens of Schengen countries can travel without a passport, but must have a valid ID with them during their stay.

Best Time to Visit

When to visit Karlstad is up to you, whether you want to experience the famously long Swedish winter, witnessing the magic of winter landscapes, or pick a warmer season (such as summer) to really appreciate the outdoors is completely up to individual preference. In the hottest months of July and August the temperatures rarely reach above 20°C.

Post

If you're looking for a post office, you might just not find any in Sweden. Why? Simply because they don't exist. In Sweden, supermarkets, newsagents and petrol stations act like postal service agents. Here you will be able to buy stamps, envelopes and many more postal services that are offered.
